

About Ash

My mum introduced me to brass banding, having been in the band herself for many years.

I started playing in Dunchurch Training Band when I was six years old on tenor horn, I then joined the main band when I was nine on 2nd Horn.

After a few years our 1st Baritone player left so I decided to give it a go and stayed in that seat until a year ago when I switched to euphonium.

I'm also on the band's committee so get to be involved in all the behind the scenes running of the band.

Dunchurch Band has a real family feel (especially for me as I'm lucky to sit right next to my mum who plays 1st Baritone!).

I'd encourage anyone who is thinking about giving it a try to send us a message and pop along to a rehearsal!
