

About Liz

I started my music journey at a very young age. My dad ran a marching band & I'd have a go on all the instruments & fill in for people when missing. I continued within marching bands until 2020 hit.

I enjoyed my marching band era playing cymbals, trumpet, baritone & mellophone as well as being field commander (conductor) for a few years too. When I moved back down to East Sussex, I decided it was time to join a brass band. So, I spent a number of years with Uckfield Concert Brass & thoroughly enjoyed my time there. We toured Wales, played for proms in the park events and Eastbourne bandstand 1812 firework night.

I took a short break from all banding when I had my daughter in 2022 but then I relocated to the midlands in 2024 to be closer to my family - both my dad & sister were part of Dunchurch Band, so I thought why not go along. I have never looked back since. I started on solo cornet & have recently moved to Eb Bass to help fill a gap. (It'll take time to adjust but I am getting there slowly).

I have recently taken on the role of conducting our training band! Such wonderful talent to be showcased & such enthusiasm for the future. Dunchurch Band are so welcoming to new & existing players, there isn't a friendlier group of people you could wish for.

Banding isn't just about playing it's about friendship & fun along the way. To be able to make music alongside my dad & sister again is one of the best feelings.
